

Supermarket

Rows and rows of colorful pieces of reef make it seem as if you are swimming up and down aisles of a supermarket. At a depth of 50 feet, these rows of coral are home to a variety of schooling fish and sea life. Take your time to look out into the sand and you will spot garden eels, yellow headed jaw fish or even a southern stingray!