

Full of Life!

On rare days we can get out to Super Secret Site #49 and this was one of those days...

As we descended I could make out the silhouette of several Queen Triggerfish. When I reached the reef there were a total of eight Queen Triggerfish of all sizes hanging out with two large Gray Angelfish, and me with no camera. Andre was pointing like crazy at something big I couldn't see in the distance as it swam away. Several lobsters and a small Nurse Shark were hiding under the next ledge. Then there was a large Green Moray Eel underneath another ledge that was ready to come out and swim with us. The reef was so full of life that morning! It made me grateful I was there to see it.
